FILM CLUB ACCEPTING NEW MEMBERS

Knight Vision Films is welcoming new faces and new creativity

WAVERLY, Iowa—The Knight Vision film club is accepting new members who are interested in becoming filmmakers.

Knight Vision Films meets every Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in McElroy Center Room 133 across from the Department of Journalism and Communication office. The club's main focus is to create short films. The group works to adjust a script and assign roles for upcoming films.

"We're happy to welcome anyone to Knight Vision Films who has an interest in filmmaking. The club has a variety of opportunities in both cast and crew," said Ronald Johnson, executive in residence and the advisor of Knight Vision Films.

Johnson and Henry Hahn, senior journalism student, are set to direct and produce a short film this fall. Production will start on Friday, Oct. 21, and is expected to conclude that Sunday.

"Joining this club has provided me with hands-on experience and opportunity to grow as a filmmaker," said Hahn. "I hope you will join us this October for the making of a '80s-inspired, B-level horror movie."

All majors are welcome to join. No prior experience is needed. For more information about Knight Vision Films, email Johnson at Ronald.johnson@wartburg.edu.

Wartburg, a four-year liberal arts college internationally recognized for community engagement, enrolls 1,498 students. Wartburg is affiliated with the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America and named after the castle in Germany where Martin Luther took refuge disguised as a knight during the stormy days of the Reformation while translating the Bible from Greek into German.
